The Body I Live In

Florence, via della Fornace 41
January 29, 2025

6.30 pm

Opening at Rifugio Digitale with Giulia Bersani and the curators.

From January 29 to February 23, Rifugio Digitale presents the exhibition Skin, by the photographer Giulia Bersani, as the first in a new cycle of exhibitions devoted to contemporary photography entitled The Body I Live In, conceived by Irene Alison and curated by Irene Alison and Paolo Cagnacci. This first event, organized in collaboration with Forma Edizioni, will be inaugurated on Wednesday, January 29, 2025, at 6:30 p.m., with the presence of the artist and the curators.

The Body I Live In is the third exhibition cycle of Rifugio Digitale devoted to contemporary photography. It is a study of the body as the foundational element of the human being – living matter that resists the virtualization of existences and creative processes – with a focus, in harmony with the themes already featured by the gallery, on the dialogue between the “inner life” (the intimate and introspective dimension) and the “outer world” (the physical and sentimental architecture we build).

The body is a sensitive topic, fertile terrain, a changing landscape. Giulia Bersani touches it with her camera's eye, without shame, without fear. Close up – very close – inside the folds of the skin, in its scars, between the hairs, between the legs. There is nothing reassuring about her rebellious bodies; they reject the rules, the expectations, the anxiety of judgement and the dictatorship of definitions. They are not smooth, not shapely; they are naked and hungry. Hungry for life, for intimacy, for freedom. And they don't give a damn about all the rest. They are bodies that pulsate, pant, weep. Crossroads of desires and passions, fluid bodies made of fluids: sweat, blood and saliva.

Giulia, 32, tells their stories, mingles with them, lies in their beds and in their arms, shows us their physicality in the most expressive sense of that word, appropriate for a project of flesh and matter – with analogue photography. Her work has gained traction in recent years, also thanks to the following she has acquired on Instagram. She has a raw, visceral energy that finds compromise impossible, whether it is toward media censure or the demands of the glossy reviews. She has totally interiorized her rough edges.

Skin by Giulia Bersani – the first personal exhibition of the new cycle that Rifugio Digitale devotes to contemporary photography: The Body I Live In, conceived by Irene Alison and curated by Irene Alison and Paolo Cagnacci – focused on the dimension of the human body as the outer limit of human identity, point of contact for our awareness of the world, on which we build our relationships, as a cry of rebellion.

Giulia Bersani

Born and raised in Milan, Giulia Bersani became interested in photography during the final years of high school. This interest emerged from a profound fear of death and the passage of time; the idea of capturing precious moments of life reassured her, allowing her to preserve their value. Over the years, she has worked on various personal projects, developing an intimate and raw style characterized by her choice to shoot exclusively on film. She later sought to bring the same authenticity and sensitivity to her commissioned work.

Since its foundation in 2010, the catalogue has grown with about twenty titles a year giving "form" to the expressive traces that animate today's cultural debate, deepening both specific areas of knowledge already known to the public, and investigating those intellectual and artistic areas considered, for various reasons, revealing new points of observation of reality. A common feature of each project is the high quality of the product, images, printing, typographic or IT processes used, as well as a targeted diffusion and distribution in places of use, such as specialized bookstores, museum bookshops and exhibition sites, which they add to the normal availability on the net that necessary and indispensable presence in the "sites" where opinions and evaluations of merit are built.

RIFUGIO DIGITALE

Rifugio Digitale is a new exhibition space in a former bomb shelter tunnel repurposed as a site devoted to the promotion of digital art, where architecture, design, photography, cinema, literature and all the other multiple forms of art and visual expression find their dimension and interact with one another. It was built on the foundations of an old anti-aircraft tunnel that served from 1943 as a bomb shelter in World War II. It was known as the Forge Refuge a safe haven during the tragedy of the war, and now it has been rechristened as the Digital Refuge, a place of rebirth, where technology meets art, offering a contemporary space where people can explore creativity through the modern language of technology.

The requalification project, handled by Archea Associati, will house digital expressions of every kind, with an eye always on the future and on the new vanguards. In collaboration with the publisher Forma Edizioni, it will house exhibitions, but also events and performances related to art, architecture, photography, literature, cinema and other initiatives linked to the digital world. It will show original views and more on the 16 screens positioned along the 33 meters of the tunnel, a new idea for Florence where the connection between art, people and technology generates an intense visual experience, unexpected and interactive. It is a space designed for constant change, always dynamic, with a new and exciting speed that distinguishes it from a traditional art gallery.

Rifugio Digitale occupies an area of 165 square meters and is a versatile structure ideal for organizing exhibitions, events, presentation, but also debates, lectures and simple discussions. It is expected to appeal to a vast public desirous of indulging their interest in ideas and novel cultural experiences right in the heart of Florence.
